

The Boundaries
Which Divide
Life from Death
Are At Best
Shadowy ^{and} Vague.
Who Shall Say Where
The One Ends And The Other Begins?

Edgar Allan Poe

The Boundaries
Which Divide
Life from Death
Are At Best
Shadowy and Vague.
Who Shall Say Where
The One Ends
And The Other Begins?
Edgar Allan Poe

This Handwritten Card
Was Created On

NOVEMBER.20.2014

By Tina Stison

Tina Stison

The vision of the dark night
I have dreamed of
- but a waking dream of life and light that left me brokenhearted.

10.9.2014

3:49:57pm

Simon Simon

This is the Actual Piece of Paper From
My Video On Youtube.

AND LASTLY

• I met a man who writes on rice. He was so amazed by backwards Writing that he took the piece of Paper I wrote for him and carefully Cut it small enough to put in his Wallet. While I was walking away, I looked back and he was carefully Taking it out and holding it up to The Light to read it. I thought How extraordinary that a man Who can write on a piece of rice Would be so taken with backwards Writing.

Hopefully this will inspire others To be mindful of their handwriting In general and, better yet to try Writing backwards. I highly Recommend it.

Sam Stumm

WHY I WRITE BACKWARDS

Because it is a reflection of me.
That is why I try to have nice forward
Writing as well. I am a visual person
And how my handwriting looks in General is very important to me. But
The main reason is I LOVE doing it.
I prefer it so much that my Cursive
Writing looks better backwards
Than forward now. I like being able
To do something few others can do.

EXTRAORDINARY THINGS

- People often call my handwriting Calligraphy when clearly it is not.
- I have met 2 people years later who still had the small piece of paper I wrote backwards on in their wallet. When they took it out to show me I could clearly see the wear and tear from having shown many people.
- I had 2 people ask me to write their Name backwards to get a tattoo of it.

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT IT

I like that people cannot read it at first glance and while I am writing it. As you can see my forward writing is easily read so while I am writing it anyone can read it with ease. I also like the way it looks. But my favorite thing about it is that people are amazed when they see me do it.

SKILLS REQUIRED

There are only 2 skills required

PATIENCE: ^{and} PRACTICE

It requires a great deal amount of both. It is not easy at first, however, the more you practice the easier it is to do it. And you have to have some patience. Now when people ask me to write something they usually request I use my dip pen. This is difficult as I am writing right to left and it is easy to smear what I am writing while writing it.

HOW I STARTED WRITING BACKWARDS

When I was in 6th grade we were only Allowed to write on the front side of a Piece of Paper. When I put my assignments In my folder, I noticed I could read what Was written on a page once it had been Turned over even though I was looking at The back of the sheet of paper and the Words were backwards.

I liked the way it looked, the words written Backwards and wondered if I could write Words that way. So, I started practicing. First printing backwards and then in Cursive. Eventually I was able to write As well backwards as forward. I had no Idea other people wrote this way. Later On I found out Leonardo Da Vinci Wrote his notes backwards. Recently My Dad told me so did Albert Einstein.

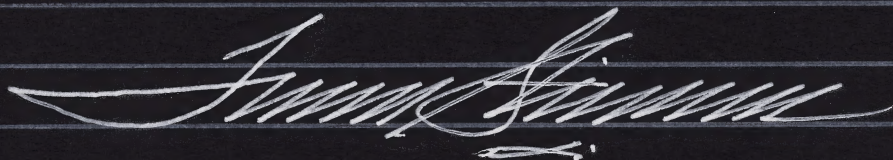

I wonder if they did it for the same Reason as me, so people cannot easily Read my notes.

Dear David,

Thank You so much for this Amazing opportunity.
I hope you like what I
Sent you. If for some reason
You do not, please let me know and
I will do my best to fix it.

THANK YOU

Most Sincerely,

P.S. I did not know if you wanted me to include my personal information
In the explanation. I was born in

1969 IN MICHIGAN

Saturday

December 13. 2014

